- 6 Airlift Conference (S): Airlift Conference is held at Hq PACAF to consider COMUSSEA recommendation that all units including AF units not under CINCPAC operational control be slipped in the deployment schedule IAW OPlan 32-64, Phases III and IV. (DM)
- 7 Contract Approval (U): Contract for modification of Hangar T-3225, buildings T-3059 and T-3248 Hickam AFB, for the Atomic Energy Commission/JTF-8 scientific program is approved for $208,348. (DM)

(Effective 1 March, CINCPAC had modified severance pay plan for Korean nationals employed by the US Forces in Korea. Modification concerned change of service credit data from 30 April 1961 to 30 April 1965.) (DP)
- 15 Naha C-130 Corrosion Control (U): FY 64 Corrosion Control Program is completed with delivery of 55th scheduled aircraft. FY 65 program, to be operated under the existing contract team until 1 Oct 64, is underway with two aircraft in work. Sufficient personnel are to be in place, 1 Oct 64, to permit in-house takeover of the entire C-130s project for the remainder of FY 65. (DM)

SECRET-NOFORN

Det 2, 35th Tac Gp to Udorn (S): Air Support Operations Center (ASOC), consisting of 13 officers and 14 airmen plus base support complement of 4 officers and 62 airmen, deploy for 90 days TDY. Maintenance function of 2 officers and 99 airmen is to alert for 60 days deployment o/a 1 Aug. (DP)

AMPS Manpower Reductions (U): Resulting from installation of NCR 390 computers, USAF withdraws 48 spaces (34 airmen and 14 US Citizen employees). (CPT)

Cost Reduction Report (U): PACAF reports $191,300 Automatic Data Processing Equipment (ADPE) savings accruing during FY 64 resulting from improved management of available ADPE and identification and release of surplus ADPE. (CPT)

Military Pay Raise (U): Bill authorizing pay raise for military personnel, effective 1 Sep 64, is signed by the President. (CPT)

Facility Requirements for Udorn (S): PACAF Personnel, Materiel, and Civil Engineering personnel perform TDY at Clark AB to develop facility requirements for Udorn, Thailand, based on an approximate 300 personnel strength, expandable to support 500 personnel. Total cost of the first increment (300 personnel package) is estimated to be $703,960. Additional project for an aircraft maintenance hangar with shops, estimated at $448,800 is dropped due to CINCPAC action to contract Air America for maintenance of MAP and USAF aircraft. (DM)

Retention of 35th TCS (C-130s) (S): Under Project CLEAR WATER, the 35th TCS had been scheduled to move to the CONUS in Sep 64. Therefore, all C-130 manning actions were programmed with the loss of the sq taken into account; however, decision is made to retain the sq at Naha AB until at least June 65. This results in involuntary extension of 15 pilots and navigators until Dec 64. (DP)

Retirement Plan - Ryukyus Islands (C): Department of Army proposes interim annuity plan to provide retirement benefits to Ryukyuan employees of US Forces until such time as a welfare pension insurance program is established for wage earners in Ryukyu Islands. (DP)

Retaliation by US (U): President Johnson reports that in retaliation for the unprovoked NVN attack, the US is taking air action "against gunboats and certain supporting facilities in NVN." USN aircraft attack 4 NVN patrol boat bases and a POL storage area on the NVN coast, damaging 25 NVN patrol boats and destroying the oil storage depot at Vinh. USN lose 2 aircraft. (DOIH)

PACAF had deployed many personnel prior to the increased activity associated with the Tonkin Gulf incident. Critical manning problems developed at all PACAF bases as result of additional TDY required for Bien Hoa and Korat. All CONUS TDY personnel (designated TOP DOG) are assembled at Travis AFB for special airlift and arrive 13 Aug at Clark AB, Saigon and Bangkok and subsequently are transported to duty stations. (DP)

- 9 TDY SEA (TOP DOG) (S): PACAF requests additional TDY augmentation. Included is a support package alerted for deployment if PACAF's forces are further beefed-up and 71 additional specialist personnel required for immediate deployment to SEA. CHAPTER SEVEN
DEVELOPMENT OF FORCES

DEVELOPMENT OF FORCES*

The PACAF Force Schedule in Brief, "an easy planning reference," published 18 May 1964, was superseded as of 16 October 1964.¹ It reflected another six months extension of the forty-eight B-57 capability from January 1965 to June 1965. The previously scheduled movement of the 35th Troop Carrier Squadron (TCS) to the Continental US (CONUS) in September 1964 had been extended to July 1965. Further retention of this theater airlift capability beyond July 1965 was under consideration. Also, as a related action, the prior scheduled movement of the Tachikawa C-130 periodic field maintenance capability to Naha in September 1964 had been canceled. Instead of the prior programs to organize variable size C-123 squadrons, this schedule reflected the latest approved program of four (16 UE) C-123 squadrons with one squadron including the aerial spray configured flight of four C-123s.

By 15 February 1965, significant changes were reflected in PACAF's offensive, special air warfare

(SAWF) and defensive forces:²

Offensive

Forty-eight B-57s organized in two squadrons were to be retained at Clark Air Base until June 1966, at which time they were to be inactivated.

The two tactical missile squadrons on Okinawa were merged into the parent missile group as a single operating entity in July 1966.

The F-100 rotational squadron at Clark was scheduled for modernization to F-111 in Fiscal Year 1970.

Only thirty-two C-123s were scheduled for the three SAW composite squadrons in FY 67 compared with the 47 previously authorized. Presumably these were to include the four aerial spray aircraft. Other aircraft in the composite squadrons included a total of thirty A1Es, four U-10s and six C-47s.

The 310th Air Commando Troop Carrier Squadron was to move from Tan Son Nhut to Nha Trang during April-June 1965.

Defensive

The 509th FIS was to be reorganized from thirty-three to twenty-one UE (F-102s) in May 1965 and be retained at that capability until it was inactivated in place in June 1966. The 199th FIS at Hickam was to be reorganized from twenty-five to eighteen UE by end of FY 65.

Automation of the Okinawa Defense System was not funded, but was still an objective.

Support

The 421st Air Refueling Squadron was inactivated in February 1965 concurrent with the January 1965 rotation of SAC KC-135s to Kadena Air Base.

The 19th Tactical Air Support Squadron (TASS) remained through the program with twenty-two O-1Fs. Concurrent with other SEA withdrawals it was proposed to transfer three aircraft to each of seven DASFs.

An airborne command post capability for CINCPAC of five EC-135s was to be equipped in FY 1/66 at Hickam.

The 35th TCS, Naha was still programmed for move to CONUS by 1 July 1965. Retention beyond July 1965 was still under study.

The 6th Troop Carrier Squadron with sixteen C-124s was to be retained beyond the end of Fiscal Year 1967 and be discontinued at the end of Fiscal Year 1968. Also, the 50th Air Transport Squadron with sixteen C-124s was not to modernize to C-141, but was extended until FY 70 when it was to be discontinued. The 22d TCS (H) at Tachikawa was to be inactivated in FY 1/67.

By the end of FY 65, the Clark-based 509th FIS was to remain at 33 F-102s until inactivated in place in June 1966.³

Over and above the assigned 19th TASS, three additional squadrons (20th, 21st and 22nd) had been activated and were in the process of being equipped. Each was to be equipped with thirty O-1Fs.

The 35th TCS (sixteen C-130As) was to remain at Naha and move to Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio by 1 July 1966.

In July 1965, the force schedule reflected in-place augmentation forces because of the significant level of effort this additive capability represented. Status by specific operating base was based on OSD-approved commitments through 1 July 1965 only, which did not take into account future basing generated by the operational situation, or further base developments that would permit greater flexibility and dispersal in basing. Future issues of this schedule would reflect changes in basing.

The schedule did reflect a one-year stretch-out from FY 1/67 to FY 1/68 for all USAF flying units in SEA. This "drop-out" timing was "tentative" and was to be used for programming purposes only, inasmuch as the operational situation would dictate the real schedule. FY 68 was an arbitrarily set date to provide the necessary lead time needed to plan for provision for units at WESTPAC or CONUS bases.
